CHOOSING A TYPEWRITER

THERE are many of our readers to whom a Typewriter now is almost a necessity for their work and correspondence.

The selection of the most suitable machine from the large number of different models on the market is not an easy matter.

In a booklet entitled 'Choosing a Typewriter,' we give a great deal of helpful information, and state the claims to special consideration of the

SOME WORKS OF REFERENCE

A NEW LIST OF FOREIGN BOOKS

A SERIES OF FIVE GREAT DICTIONARIES

The Catholic Encyclopædia of France.

Each of these Dictionaries appears in Parts, consisting of 160 quarto pages (320 columns, equivalent to three octavo volumes of 300 pages each): illustrations separately inserted apart from the text are counted as sixteen pages of text.

Each Part is supplied by us to subscribers at 4s. 2d. net, and we do not insist on payment within a fortnight, like the issuing firms. The Parts can be obtained by subscription only.

So far the following Dictionaries have been begun:

1. Dictionnaire de la Bible

Publié par F. Vigouroux. Fascicule XXXIII. Prière-Ravissement.

"A really good and scholarlike Dictionary of the Bible; one which will compare favourably with, and in some respects surpass, Dr Wm Smith's."—Month.

"The articles are wonderfully clear in their statements and written in an attractive manner."—Dublin Review.

2. Dictionnaire de Théologie Catholique

Publié par A. Vacant et E. Mangenot. Fascicule XXIX.

This work is highly praised in the French and German ecclesiastical reviews. Many of the principal contributors to this and the other Dictionaries are to be found in the exiled French Monastic Communities now living in our midst.

BURNS & OATES, 28 ORCHARD STREET, LONDON, W.

SOME WORKS OF REFERENCE

3. Dictionnaire d'Archéologie Chrétienne et de Liturgie

Publié par Dom F. Cabrol, abbé de Farnborough.
Fascicule XVII. Byzantin-Calliste.

"There is absolutely no work of reference in any language which covers the same ground."—Month.

"We have no hesitation in recommending this dictionary to the custodians of public and chapter libraries and to scholars."—Guardian.

4. Dictionnaire d'Histoire et de Géographie Ecclésiastiques

Publié par Mgr A. Baudrillart, A. Vogt, et U. Rouziès. Fascicule I. Aachs-Achot.

This Dictionary has only just been commenced. We shall be glad to enroll the names of subscribers, and to send a prospectus post free on application. The first part is now obtainable.

5. Dictionnaire de Droit canonique

This Dictionary will complete the great French Catholic Encyclopedia. The first Part will be issued as soon as the codification of Canon Law is sufficiently advanced. The whole work will be entrusted to eminent specialists as distinguished in their own line as those who are responsible for the other dictionaries of the series.

Dictionnaire Apologétique de la Foi Catholique

Sous la Direction de A. Alès.

This Dictionary does not belong to the above series, but it is an eminently useful work, especially where the Catholic clergy have to contend for the faith with controversialists of all shades of religious opinion.

The first Part contains, amongst other articles—Agnosticisme, Albigeois, Ame, Ange, Antéchrist, Apocryphes, Apologétique, Apparitions, Ascétisme, Athéisme, Aumône.

The dictionary will be completed in about ten or twelve Parts, and each Part contains 160 pages, and will be supplied by us, to subscribers only, at 4s. 2d. net.

A prospectus of any of the above dictionaries will be gladly sent post free to any address.

THE DUBLIN REVIEW

21s. YEARLY,
POST FREE.

Edited by Wilfrid Ward

THE new Series, under the editorship of Mr Wilfrid Ward, has preserved the tradition inaugurated by Cardinal Wiseman that the Review "should belong to the present day, that it should treat of living questions and should grapple with real antagonists."

"The historic Dublin Review," as it was called by Cardinal Newman, who attributed his conversion in great part to one of its articles, "paves the way for such a synthesis between Faith and Learning as every age of intellectual activity of a new kind demands."

"The Dublin Review is the oldest and unquestionably the ablest Catholic periodical in the English language. Indeed, its high standard of literary excellence and critical scholarship is probably unsurpassed by any periodical in the world. English-speaking Catholics may well feel proud of this review. It is almost a reproach to any club or reading-room not to be provided with the DUBLIN."—Ave Maria (U.S.A.).

"The Dublin Review, under Mr Wilfrid Ward's editorship, reaches a high level of interest, and should be welcome to all cultivated people."—Athenæum.

"An admirable number of the Dublin Review marks the commencement of Mr Ward's editorship."—Guardian.

"The Dublin Review is one which readers should not allow themselves to overlook."—Academy.

"We wish every success to the new series, which will be read by many who are not Roman Catholics."—Morning Post.

"The general contents are varied and interesting."—Westminster Gazette.

"The Baron congratulates Mr Ward on the first number of the new series now under his judicious editorship."—Punch.

"Of its outer form it is sufficient to say that in its green—its still green—old age, it is without any equal of its class in the open competition of the world's market, both as to its generous size and the considered beauty of its typography."—Tablet.

M. H. GILL & SON'S LIST

"A MONUMENTAL WORK"

The Science of Ethics

By the Rev. MICHAEL CRONIN, M.A., D.D.
Ex-Fellow, R.U.I.

8vo, 660 pages, 12s. 6d. net (postage 5d.; foreign postage, 1s.)

*.*In no other works of Ethics is the Philosophy of Aristotle and Aquinas treated at such length, and what is still more important is that there is practically no subject of modern ethical controversy which is not fully discussed, and in a style that will appeal to all students of Philosophy.

"... The book must be read and leisurely studied in order to be appreciated at its true worth... our own impression, after perusing the volume carefully from cover to cover, is that professor, student and opponent will all derive advantage from these pages which at present they can obtain from no other ethical work in the language."—Dublin Review.

"... A good example of criticism thoroughly up-to-date, by the aid of which our students can fit themselves to take part in current intellectual discussions... We can specially commend it."—The Month.

"... He has done his work well; we congratulate him on his success."—Irish Theological Quarterly.

"We congratulate Dr. Cronin on his remarkable contribution to sound philosophy, and our schools of Christian Thought on a champion of whom they may well be proud."—New Ireland Review.

"... The whole work is able and original."—Irish Independent.

"We believe there is no school of philosophy which will not welcome this fine addition to the philosophic literature of our time."—Freeman's Journal.

"... This monumental work... crammed full of controversial matter and ranges practically over the whole of the world's ethical literature, from Aristotle to Nietzsche."—The Scotsman.

THE LIGHT OF THE WEST. With some other Wayside Thoughts, 1865-1908. By General Sir William Butler. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 5s. net (postage 4d.)

*.*Besides the Essay on St Patrick, which gives the title to the book, there are also Essays of much interest on Napoleon, Parnell, Gordon, etc.

"... We can most cordially recommend the book... it is intensely interesting."—Freeman's Journal.

For Spiritual Reading

By BISHOP HEDLEY, O.S.B.

A Bishop and his Flock. 6s.

"The topics here treated cover a wide range—God, the Mystery of Grace, the Sacraments, the duties of parents, Sunday observance, mixed marriages, bad language, ritual church music, temperance, etc., etc. It will be hard for any one to read these Pastorals without finding himself compelled to serious thought—and serious thinking is undoubtedly the great want of our age."—Month.

A Retreat: consisting of 33 Discourses, with Meditations: for the use of the Clergy, Religious and others. 7th Edition. In handsome quarter-leather binding. 6s.

"Anything which comes from the pen of the Bishop of Newport is sure of a welcome from the Catholics of this country, who know from experience that whatever be the subject which the author touches, he will not fail to adorn it with a new setting at once solid and attractive."—Month.

Our Divine Saviour. 5th Edition. 6s.

"A distinct and noteworthy feature of these sermons is their freshness—everywhere it is the heart of the preacher pouring out to his flock his own deep convictions, enforcing them from the 'treasures, old and new,' of a cultivated mind."—Dublin Review.

Users are delighted with the

OLIVER TYPEWRITER

BECAUSE it is Durable and Elegant—Simple yet highest in Efficiency—Most complete in Equipment; with a clever Pointer that makes Visible Writing doubly valuable, a Shield that protects the working parts from dust and dirt; a base that defies Vibration, a unique device for ruling Lines and Columns; Paper Guides that are veritable Fingers, Duplicate Release Keys, a new Pendulum mechanism that makes the Shift Keys delightfully easy, and, above all, the peculiar, the unique, the powerful double Typebar, strong in "Manifolding," exquisite in "Stencil Cutting," giving to the Oliver—Power—Efficiency—Reliability—Long Life.
